

BURNS MEN STAND FIRM.

Strong Statement Issued by the Supporters of the Colonel.

(Special to The Tribune.)
SACRAMENTO, March 4.—The circular issued in the interests of Col. Burns by Leavitt, Johnson and Dibble, the steering committee appointed at the Burns caucus, is now in the hands of all the members of the Legislature. Its wording in full is as follows:

"Whereas the results of the election held in 1896 were ascertained, it was found that 55 Republican members of the Legislature out of a total membership of 120 had been elected. When the Legislature convened January 2, 1899, it became its highest duty to elect a United States Senator to succeed Hon. Stephen M. White, whose term expires March 4, 1899. Upon the Republican members, numbering 24 more than a majority, rested the solemn obligation to elect a Senator, who would represent the Republican party, and be a firm supporter of our Republican President and his administration.

"For over eight weeks that obligation has been unperformed, that duty neglected. The blame rests upon the Republican majority and must be borne by them—although the consequences of this unfulfilled duty will fall upon the Republican party at large. That the members of our party may understand our position and put their condemnation upon the proper persons, we issue this statement:

"We have supported a candidate, Honorable Daniel M. Burns, who, in our judgment, possessed the necessary qualifications to make a good official and properly represent our State.

"Other Republican legislators, for reasons sufficient for their judgment, have supported other persons equally fit for the position. For eight weeks the contest has continued, and now, with but at best, a few days remaining of the session, we are no nearer, apparently, a conclusion than at the beginning. Why is this so? The answer is plain. Because the time-honored custom of all political parties of holding a caucus to select a candidate has been abandoned. This country has no representative government; all selections of officials are decided by a vote of the persons entitled to act thereon, and the selection of a majority, no matter how small numerically, becomes by the force of law the selection of all. This law of the land has become by usage the law of political parties. It is essential to the continuity of our free institutions that this law should continue to govern the nation, for without it anarchy would reign, petty principalities would usurp the place of sovereign States and the Federal Union become a meaningless phrase.

"It is absolutely necessary to the preservation of a political party that its law should govern the deliberations of its members, for without it a party becomes a mob without cohesive power, a rope of sand only powerful to injure itself and its friends when sought to be used to benefit the party or advance its principles. From the commencement of the Senatorial struggle to the present hour our candidate and ourselves are continuously asked for a caucus of the Republican members of the Legislature.

"THAT CAUCUS TO BE ONE WHERE NO SECRET BALLOT WOULD BE USED, THAT CAUCUS TO CONSIST OF NOT LESS THAN SIXTY-ONE MEMBERS, A MAJORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE, AND A MAJORITY TO DECIDE NOW, AS IN THE PAST, WHO SHOULD BE THE CHOICE OF OUR PARTY FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR.

"Without good reason our respectful requests for a caucus have been denied; the result is apparent to all: no Senator has been elected and it may be that no Senator will be elected; if none is elected at this session the Legislature of 1900 will have this extraordinary issue forced into it; the best fruit of our victory of 1896 will be turned to dust in our grasp and the Democratic party will be given another opportunity to secure a Senator lost by them in fair battle.

"History teaches us that the result of political contests can never be accurately foretold and that victories in elections in California frequently change with their frequent occurrence. The loss to our party of a Senator for two years will be incalculable, injuring us daily in new places and by creating unnecessary antagonisms in our organization, weakening our lines and disorganizing our forces.

"California will only be half represented for two years in the United States Senate, a result unpleasant to contemplate and most disastrous in its effects. The varied interests of our loved commonwealth need the fostering care of the National Government and with only half a delegation they will suffer without fault on the part of our one Senator.

"The honored head of our party—President McKinley—whose administration merits and receives our hearty approval, will be deprived of one supporter whose voice will be needed in the regular sessions of Congress and particularly needed if an extra session is called.

"For these amongst other reasons we have persistently called upon our fellow Republican members of the Legislature to meet with us in open caucus where every Republican legislator would be equal, where every vote would be openly cast, and NO SECRET BALLOT BE USED, and where a majority of the Republican members of this Legislature should select the candidate that all could support.

"Our appeals have fallen upon deaf ears, our suggestions have been ignored, our requests have been made to us; such an answer is un-Republican, un-patriotic, devoid of reason, without force and unworthy of men who represent the Republic and to abide loyally by the decision of the majority of that caucus no matter what candidate may be selected.

"We make no threats, we include in no boasts, but we are men who know our duties to our candidate, ourselves and our party, and we hereby solemnly declare that it is our fixed and unalterable purpose to continue voting for our candidate, Hon. Daniel M. Burns, until the close of this session, unless a caucus of the Republican members of the Legislature is held in accordance with the views here above expressed.

Senators Sig. M. Bettman, F. W. Burnett, John A. Hoey, James T. Laird, Frank W. Leavitt, C. M. Shortridge, C. M. Simpson, E. J. Wolfe, Assemblymen M. E. Ameringer, M. H. Barry, J. H. Beecher, W. H. ## LEGISLATURE TO WORK ALL NIGHT.

Bill to Abolish Poll Tax Passes the Assembly.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
SACRAMENTO, Mar. 4.—The Legislature is getting down to business. It will remain in session practically all night. The Assembly has special orders set for as late as 11 o'clock this evening.

This morning Belshaw's Assembly bill 34, authorizing the Treasurer to transfer to the San Francisco harbor improvement fund moneys in the San Francisco depot improvement fund was passed in the Assembly.

Assembly constitutional amendment No. 13, introduced by Mead, was adopted. This amendment proposes to excuse all citizens from the duty of paying poll tax who vote at general elections. Aliens and citizens who do not vote will not be included in the exemption.

Mead's Assembly constitutional amendment No. 13, also adopted. The amendment proposes necessary changes in the constitution to exempt mortgages from taxation.

Five bills were passed in the Senate during the forenoon session. They were: Senate bill 249, amending the law regulating the practice of pharmacy and the sale of poisons.

Senate bill 226, introduced by Bulla, amending section 52 of the Penal Code. Committee substitute for Senate bill 27, introduced by Bulla, amending section 52 of the Penal Code.

Committee substitute for Senate bill 165, introduced by Taylor, amending section 103 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to Justice Courts and Justices of the Peace.

Senate bill 110, introduced by Culler, for the protection of horticulture and to prevent the introduction into the State of insects or diseases or animals injurious to fruit, trees, vines, bushes or vegetables.

DRAMATIC SCENE IN THE HOUSE Grand Outburst of Patriotic Singing.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
WASHINGTON, March 4.—When Speaker Reed declared the House adjourned today one of the most dramatic scenes ever witnessed in Congress was enacted. The Speaker had just returned his thanks to the members for the customary resolutions of thanks, and then announced that the House stood adjourned sine die.

Suddenly some members down near the rostrum began singing and above the din arose the strains of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

The air was taken up, the galleries caught the inspiration as one man and everybody rose and joined in the singing until in one grand chorus thousands were voicing the beautiful words of the national anthem.

It was a scene to live a lifetime to witness and a fitting and a patriotic climax to the great war Congress.

Down in front the gallant General Henderson, with his cane aloft, was beating time for the air, while all around, on the floor and in the galleries, the inspiring words poured forth in immense volume. The emotional side of the vast concourse was touched, and there were tears in many eyes. When the anthem was concluded General Henderson started "Auld Lang Syne," and it also was sung with a will.

Suddenly John Murray Mitchell waved aloft a small American flag, and members and galleries went wild, joining in singing "The Red, White and Blue."

While the singing was in progress Mr. Hull of Hull bill fame jumped upon a desk with a large red, white and blue streamer, waving it to the rhythm of the air, and shouting "The Red, White and Blue!"

Three cheers for Dewey, and they were given with violence and explosive vigor. Then three cheers for the army and navy, and finally for Joe Wheeler. This wonderful demonstration concluding with the singing of the "Doxology."

HER MARRIAGE TURNED OUT TO BE NO JOKE.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
CHICAGO, Mar. 4.—Refusing to take a "fare" given by mutual friends, George C. Roulter, a wealthy merchant of Duluth, Minn., and Etta Sablitzky, a resident of Chicago, were married by a Justice of the Peace in Butte, Mont., on December 4, 1898. The young woman, after returning to Chicago and realizing the seriousness of the proceedings, filed a bill for divorce in the Superior Court today. After hearing the evidence the court entered a decree setting aside the marriage.

SUICIDE OF A MINER IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 4.—Ezro Bozich, a miner from Tuolumne county, was found dead in a south side lodging house today with a bullet hole in his head and a pistol by his side. No reason for the deed is known. He left a note saying he was in fear of the police, though denying that he had done anything illegal. It is thought that he was insane.

PROMOTER HOOLEY TO BE PROSECUTED.

LONDON, Mar. 4.—The Register of the bankruptcy division of the High Court of Justice has ordered the prosecution of Ernest Terah Hoooley, the company promoter against whom a receiving order in bankruptcy was issued early in June last.

TOURIST AGENT COOK IS DEAD.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
LONDON, Mar. 4.—J. M. Cook, the head of the great tourist agency, is dead. He never recovered from the illness which he contracted while conducting the recent tour of Emperor William of Germany in Palestine.

A message has been received at the City Hall from R. W. Snow, candidate for Mayor, stating that he is in Fresno on his way home. He is expected to arrive Monday morning.

BADLY BURNED AT HER HOME.

Mrs. T. O. Crawford Meets With a Painful Accident at Fruitvale.

The residence and household furniture of T. O. Crawford, County Superintendent of Schools, on Fruitvale avenue near Hopkins street, was completely destroyed by fire this morning about 9 o'clock and Mrs. Crawford, wife of the Superintendent, was so badly burned that it is uncertain as yet as to whether or not she will recover.

The destruction of property and the probable loss of life was due to the lighting of some coal oil. Mrs. Crawford was pouring coal oil from one vessel into another near a fire when an explosion occurred.

At the time of the accident there were in the Crawford home only Mrs. Crawford and her mother, Mrs. Stoddard, an elderly lady, who is also very feeble. Mrs. Crawford and her daughter Edith had gone to the office of the former in the Hall of Records in this city to attend to business affecting the county schools.

The first intimation that there was anything wrong in the Crawford residence was when the Reno family, who reside in an adjoining house, noticed smoke coming from the windows and doors of the Crawford home.

Some of the members of the Reno household immediately ran toward Mr. Crawford's house with the intention of ascertaining what was occasioning the smoke, when they met Mrs. Stoddard, the mother of Mrs. Crawford, running from the house.

Mrs. Stoddard is an elderly woman and at the same time a feeble one. She was in a state of nervousness but indicated that there was a fire raging inside.

The members of the Reno family and other neighbors who had by this time arrived on the scene then entered the house and found it burning furiously and at the same time Mrs. Crawford was a mass of flames in the kitchen.

Despite the fact of her precarious condition, Mrs. Crawford was making a daring effort to save herself. She was endeavoring to divert herself or her flaming apparel by means of her hands and at the same time to smother the flames by rolling against the walls.

Every movement made by the woman's hands only extended the surface of her frame exposed to the flames and in a short space of time, her hands, her most immediate means of relief were rendered useless by the burns which they sustained.

The neighbors extinguished the flames upon the unfortunate woman by means of water and blankets and bore her tenderly from the home which by this time had in several places burst into flame.

SAN JOSE'S BIG BICYCLE MEET.

Two Days Good Racing for the Garden City.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
SAN JOSE, March 4.—The two-day bicycle race meet opened at Cuyler's Park at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and the prospects are that the meet will be an entire success. The big feature of the meet will be the hundred-mile race tomorrow. This will start at 12:30 o'clock the rest of the program beginning at 2:30 p. m.

It is expected that nearly twenty riders will take part in this big race. It will not be fast paced, as first intended, but will be drawn out for a world's unplaced race, and the competitors have been offered special prizes for leading at the laps. The track here is a third of a mile, and a big field is expected to be together in a sprint for the close. The other races will be run on the outer side of the track tomorrow, giving a double program.

Kid McCoy does not appear today as had been expected.

REPUBLICAN RALLY IN NORTHERN DISTRICT.

Candidates Tell the People of the Needs of the City.

The Republican candidates were given a rousing reception in North Oakland last evening. Wilson's Hall, where the meeting took place, was crowded with an enthusiastic audience.

John Trotter called the meeting to order and acted as chairman of the evening. He first called for the candidates to come forward and take places on the platform. As they went forward the hall was shaken with the heavy applause which greeted them. Cries of "What's the matter with Miller," "What's the matter with Girard," "What's the matter with Dow," and others made the hall ring with enthusiasm.

Chairman Trotter made a few opening remarks in part as follows: "I believe all the candidates will be present, with one exception. The man who heads our ticket has been afflicted by having a death in his family. He is away now burying his wife. I think the most fitting thing we can do this evening is to vote a resolution of condolence to Mr. Snow. Mr. Rowell, Librarian of the University, made a motion that such a resolution be voted upon.

A standing vote was taken, which resulted in every one in the hall rising.

SPEAKS FOR SNOW.

R. F. Jackson spoke for R. W. Snow, candidate for Mayor. He said:

"Mr. Chairman and fellow citizens: The Almighty God created in the beginning man in the image and likeness of himself, the most perfect and wonderful of all his creations, giving him dominion over all living creatures, beasts, birds, fish and reptiles. Although created in the image of himself, it is an admitted fact that no two of us are alike in form, features and disposition. And, fellow citizens, it is a wise plan of the Supreme Creator, for he knew if we were alike you might want my wife and I might yours, and that wouldn't do at all, would it? So being different in our thoughts and dispositions, objects and aims in life, it is not strange there should be different political parties, each having different platforms and each claiming theirs the best, and it is their platform we elected here to results would accrue to the city. It has been the custom for many years, just before election, for the representatives of both parties to appear before the honest voters and taxpayers in their respective precincts, or wards, and endeavor to the best of their ability to convince the voters that their platform was the best, and that their nominees were elected here to results would accrue to the city. It has been the custom for many years, just before election, for the representatives of both parties to appear before the honest voters and taxpayers in their respective precincts, or wards, and endeavor to the best of their ability to convince the voters that their platform was the best, and that their nominees were elected here to results would accrue to the city.

"I never allowed my children to speak disrespectfully or find fault with their father, and I told them if some of the children liked her, and she liked them, if they too would be kind and pleasant to her, good in deportment, faithful in studies, she would love and love them. I told them it is with older people all through life.

"I now believe if Mr. Davis had exercised calmer, more cautious judgment, used more tact and intelligence, he would have had a more successful administration. There would have been more harmony, better feeling between him, the Board of Public Works, the Council and heads of all departments, and the city would have been greatly benefited. I never knew a firm or corporation to succeed where all the employees were pulling and working against each other. The business of a firm or corporation had to suffer that one employer might vent spleen against another. If our beautiful city is to succeed and we become a happy, progressive people, we must now elect men who have not only brains, ability and honesty, but command over themselves, so they can work in harmony for the best interests of our Greater Oakland.

"From the character of the people and enthusiasm I witness night after night in different parts of the city, I do believe the Lord's hand is in the matter in the selection of nominees of the Republican Convention; and the whole ticket without exception, with that noble gentleman, the noblest work God ever did, and honest man—Mr. R. W. Snow, at its head, will be elected."

Z. T. GILPIN, candidate for City Treasurer, was next called upon. He spoke of the Second ward as his ward because his home was in it. "I have served the city for a number of years and have endeavored to administer the office well. I am ready to receive your votes and continue in the office, as I have done in the past."

W. A. DOW, candidate for City Attorney, spoke in part as follows: "I am glad to see so many earnest voters gathered here this evening. The men whom you are now going to select are the men, you might say, who are to govern your homes.

"I want to say a few words about R. W. Snow. He was entirely unselfish when he accepted the nomination for Mayor. He could have been re-elected as often as he chose to the office of City Auditor. But he wished to be of more service to the city. He brings with him an experience of ten years in the administration of the affairs of the city which will make him one of the best Superintendents we ever had. You could not select a better man to fill the office. I know that you appreciate his services as City Auditor and that you will reward them by electing him to the office he now seeks to fill.

"I also wish to commend to you M. K. Miller, your Superintendent of Streets, who is now aspiring for the office of City Engineer. He has been the best Superintendent of Streets the city has ever had, (applause) and I wish to urge upon you not to forget this on election day.

"Your Councilman, F. R. Girard, has been one of the best Councilmen who has ever been elected to the Council. He is always honest and always on the right side.

"After speaking in commendatory terms about all the candidates on the ticket, Mr. Dow continued as follows: "I am proud to be on the Republican ticket with such a lot of good men. I think you will win our election day and elect every one of them. As for myself, I have tried to fill the office of City Attorney to the best of my ability. If you have no fault to find with my record, I will be pleased to receive your suffrage."

M. K. MILLER, Mr. K. Miller was greeted with applause when he was presented. "I have had a great many difficulties to overcome," he said, "since I assumed the position of Street Superintendent. I found your streets in a very bad condition. The gutters were full of dirt and there was a general clamor for clean streets. I have overcome this difficulty, and today your streets are as clean as any city in the country."

"I do not wish to throw any stones at my opponent, Mr. Clement is a good fellow. The trouble is that he and I differ politically and otherwise. Ever since he was elected to the office of City Engineer he has been trying to have me removed. We are opposed to each other, and he is opposing the steam roller for evening the streets. The result has shown that I was right in the matter."

In concluding his remarks, Mr. Miller called upon the voters to elect the ticket he recommended, and urged the voters to give the Republican ticket their undivided support.

F. R. GIRARD, Councilman Girard spoke in part as follows: "I was not going to run for Councilman this time, but friends have come around and urged me to accept the nomination. I accepted to their requests. I will run for the office once more. You know the record I have made and I want you to consider that when you go to the polls on March 15th.

"I have been honest to the people. I have stood up for their rights on all matters which came before the Council. If you had had one more honest man in the Council you would not be paying the high water rates that are now forced upon you. There are five of us now, Mr. Cuvellier, Mr. Rowe, Mr. Upton, Mr. Pringle and myself, who are working to have the rates reduced. It will pay you to send honest men to the Council because it touches your pockets. I ask you to vote for the Republican candidates." (Applause.)

A. H. BREED, candidate for City Auditor, spoke very briefly concerning the duties of City Auditor and said if he is elected he felt perfectly competent to fill the office to the satisfaction of the people. He hoped the voters would remember every candidate on the Republican ticket when they went to the polls to cast their ballots.

GEORGE R. STETSON, candidate for Councilman, said he would like an opportunity of serving the people in the Council with Mr. Cuvellier and Mr. Girard.

B. H. WELCH said that if he was elected to the Council he would work for improvements throughout the city.

E. C. CUVELLIER, candidate for Councilman-at-large, was then presented and made a few remarks.

R. M. PRICE, candidate for School Director, said if elected he would work to relieve the crowded condition of the public schools.

Charles Ingler, candidate for School Director, said no reason why men who had properly filled an office should not be returned.

Murray Laidlaw, candidate for Library Trustees, spoke in favor of the free reading room which he designated the workingman's friend.

Professor W. D. Arms said he had served as Library Trustee for four terms and was willing to serve as long as the people wanted him. He then made his usual attack upon John L. Davis, candidate for Mayor.

The meeting was brought to a close with a few remarks by B. H. Pendleton, candidate for Library Trustee.

"Honestly, and I say it in fear of God, whom I honor, love and reverence, I do believe there is now an effort to lease your city government for political patronage, and I do pray God that you will give your peace to bear what will follow if they succeed.

"Now, regarding Mr. Snow's opponent, Mr. J. L. Davis. I want to be truthful, kind and charitable, as I know Mr. Snow would be if he were addressing you tonight. I am glad charity does cover a multitude of defects and imperfections. Mr. Davis is probably as anxious to be Mayor of the city of Oakland as Mr. Snow, but I believe for different reasons in his anxiety to get there, well—he talks a great deal. I am not generally afraid of barking dogs. It is the low, quiet growl I fear. A jackass can bray the loudest, but a cuckoo's note is the sweetest and more interesting. A man who has continually to blow his own horn, because no one cares to blow it for him, does not impress me very favorably, does it not? I said Mr. Davis talks a great deal, says a great many things about himself and a good deal about public officers and their employees. I would not for a moment intimate that he tells falsehoods; but, my friend, he does remind one of a conversation held between a certain deacon and his young son. The deacon was lecturing his son on the enormity of lying; said it was a great, great sin and our God would severely punish because a liar was an awful, awful man. If a man lied, he would naturally steal; would commit murder if necessary, to save himself or justify vengeance, and hell was his ultimate portion. The boy interrupted and said, 'Say, father, if I lie, but I don't should tell the truth, so big no one would believe him, that would not be a sin, would it? He wouldn't go to hell, would he?' 'Well, no, my son,' said the father, 'I don't think that is exactly a sin; I don't think he would go to hell, but it is a very bad thing, my son, of your doing so foolish a thing I'll beat you, beat you.' (Laughter.) That's just what I believe you, beat him with your votes.' (Cries 'we will, we will!')

"Fellow Citizens, I do not consider it a mark of intelligence or good judgment for one man to be always finding fault and opposing everybody he comes in contact with. He cannot succeed because he is obstructing business, progress and social attainment. We must use tact, good policy, tact, give and take, each cannot always have his own way.

I never allowed my children to speak disrespectfully or find fault with their father, and I told them if some of the children liked her, and she liked them, if they too would be kind and pleasant to her, good in deportment, faithful in studies, she would love and love them. I told them it is with older people all through life.

"I now believe if Mr. Davis had exercised calmer, more cautious judgment, used more tact and intelligence, he would have had a more successful administration. There would have been more harmony, better feeling between him, the Board of Public Works, the Council and heads of all departments, and the city would have been greatly benefited. I never knew a firm or corporation to succeed where all the employees were pulling and working against each other. The business of a firm or corporation had to suffer that one employer might vent spleen against another. If our beautiful city is to succeed and we become a happy, progressive people, we must now elect men who have not only brains, ability and honesty, but command over themselves, so they can work in harmony for the best interests of our Greater Oakland.

"From the character of the people and enthusiasm I witness night after night in different parts of the city, I do believe the Lord's hand is in the matter in the selection of nominees of the Republican Convention; and the whole ticket without exception, with that noble gentleman, the noblest work God ever did, and honest man—Mr. R. W. Snow, at its head, will be elected."

Z. T. GILPIN, candidate for City Treasurer, was next called upon. He spoke of the Second ward as his ward because his home was in it. "I have served the city for a number of years and have endeavored to administer the office well. I am ready to receive your votes and continue in the office, as I have done in the past."

W. A. DOW, candidate for City Attorney, spoke in part as follows: "I am glad to see so many earnest voters gathered here this evening. The men whom you are now going to select are the men, you might say, who are to govern your homes.

"I want to say a few words about R. W. Snow. He was entirely unselfish when he accepted the nomination for Mayor. He could have been re-elected as often as he chose to the office of City Auditor. But he wished to be of more service to the city. He brings with him an experience of ten years in the administration of the affairs of the city which will make him one of the best Superintendents we ever had. You could not select a better man to fill the office. I know that you appreciate his services as City Auditor and that you will reward them by electing him to the office he now seeks to fill.

"I also wish to commend to you M. K. Miller, your Superintendent of Streets, who is now aspiring for the office of City Engineer. He has been the best Superintendent of Streets the city has ever had, (applause) and I wish to urge upon you not to forget this on election day.

"Your Councilman, F. R. Girard, has been one of the best Councilmen who has ever been elected to the Council. He is always honest and always on the right side.

"After speaking in commendatory terms about all the candidates on the ticket, Mr. Dow continued as follows: "I am proud to be on the Republican ticket with such a lot of good men. I think you will win our election day and elect every one of them. As for myself, I have tried to fill the office of City Attorney to the best of my ability. If you have no fault to find with my record, I will be pleased to receive your suffrage."

Seats now on Sale.

WORK DONE AT THE CAPITOL.

Senator Leavitt Will Oppose Senator Stratton's Registration Proposition.

(Special to the Tribune.)
SACRAMENTO, March 4.—Nothing up to date has had so great an effect upon the Senatorial situation as the pronouncement put in circulation by Col. Burns' supporters. It has awakened the members to the fact that they have either got to go into a caucus or there will be no Senator elected this session, for that is really what it amounts to.

The frank manner in which Col. Burns' position is set forth has also had a good effect. The arguments in his behalf are unanswerable and the placing in black and white of his declaration that he does not desire a caucus, where the ballot will be secret has helped his cause along a great deal. As a matter of fact there is nothing new in such an announcement, for from the first the Colonel has stated that he did not seek to be elected by a secret ballot, but on the contrary wanted every one who voted for him to come out into the open and do it that way. His opponents, though, have always industriously circulated the story that the only way in which he was figuring to win was by a secret vote and they are now completely disarmed by the manner in which he has set forth his position.

That Col. Burns will be elected Senator is no longer a question to which doubt can be attached. The sentiment is steadily swinging around to a caucus, and though it is possible that that contingency may not occur until within a day or two of adjournment, it is certain to come at some time. The fact that General Barnes has been unable to fulfill his promise of getting votes from both Grant and Burns is already weakening him and it is freely predicted that all his votes will have scattered and gone before the close of the coming week.

In fact the only thing that is holding together the votes that are being cast for Barnes and Scott at the present time is that the members in question do not know who to go to. They will not line up with Grant, and some of them are fighting shy of Burns, so they are just staying where they are and awaiting developments. As every effort to introduce a new candidate has met with dismal failure, it can be seen, therefore, what the outcome will be. When the wind-up of the session is actually at hand these "on the fence" votes will go into caucus out of sheer desperation. If nothing else, and then will come the finale that has been so long delayed.

Where twenty-four hours ago some people were inclined to look rather gloomily upon the situation as far as Burns is concerned because of the adjournment of the open conference, today there is a general realization that the scene has changed. The solid front presented by the Burns men compares so significantly with the weak and wavering columns of the other candidates that it needs no hand-writing on the wall to say what the outcome will be.

ADJOURNMENT.
The question of adjournment continues to crop up at least once a day, and a wide variety of resolutions are in the hands of the committees of both Houses on the subject. The latest is Senator Smith's fixing the day for breaking up at Wednesday, the 15th and it is certain that the time will not be extended beyond the 15th at the outside.

The two important bills that always delay adjournment—the general appropriation and the county government bill—being going along swimmingly, the former having occupied a great deal of the time in the House during the past twenty-four hours. Very few fights have so far developed regarding it, and Chairman Valentine of the Ways and Means Committee is of opinion that the opposition will be very limited.

The county government bill, though, is meeting with a different fate. One by one the amendments offered to it are being defeated, and as far as general provisions are considered, it looks as if every proposed change will be knocked out. Senator Stratton inserted in the bill a provision for the relief of County Clerk Jordan as regards registration, placing that duty upon the Board of Supervisors. Senator Leavitt, however, is fighting the proposed change. He says that Stratton got through an independent measure to that effect, and it should be enough. To this Stratton replies that the special bill will be vetoed, and if he can get it through in the county government act it will be safe. Leavitt, however, has his war paint on the proposition, and is determined to do some fighting on the floor.

Assemblyman McDonald, who has been ill in bed for the past three days with bronchial trouble, is also anxious to take a walk at the county government bill, and is going to try and get back to the House by Monday, so that he can take a hand in what is going on.

The newspaper bills are all in shape at last. To insure their passage, they have been divided up, one-half going to the House and the other half to the Senate. Amendments have been made in all instances to be made after January 1, 1900, in accordance with the Governor's suggestion. The bills will come up as a special order in the House tonight, and will be put on special file in the Senate without further delay.

Senator Stratton's primary bill is on the statute books in good shape, and he is to be congratulated on its passage. T. Carl Spelling says that it will be a model for every State in the Union.

The Senate has adopted Cutter's constitutional amendment, and that the salaries of Superior Judges shall be paid wholly by the State, and that the salaries of court stenographers shall be fixed by the Legislature.

The assembly has continued Milton Green's contempt proceedings to Wednesday next.

Superintendent J. W. McClymonds is up from Oakland.

W. A. McKown of Berkeley is among the visitors.

D. A. Ostrom is taking a spin around the capital.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Van Court and Miss Irene Woodworth of Oakland are registered at the Golden Eagle.

establishing a chair on political economy, will be received by the University under a final decision by the Supreme Court. The request was ordered delivered to the heirs of the deceased by the Probate Court on the ground that the University of California was not a corporation under the laws of this State, and therefore could not receive the bequest. The Supreme Court decided to follow the Probate Court on the ground that the institution was considered a corporation under governmental patronage. This reverses the decision of the lower court, and gives the bequest to the University.

VIEWS OF OUR LEGISLATORS.

What They Have to Say About the Situation at Sacramento.

(Special to the Tribune.)

SACRAMENTO, March 4.—Deeming that, in view of the unsettled conditions that prevail here, the citizens of Alameda county would like to have a direct expression of opinion from their representatives at Sacramento as to the probabilities regarding the Senatorial fight. Your correspondent today interviewed them on that subject:

The question propounded was, "What, in your opinion, will be the outcome of the Senatorial contest?" The replies follow:

SENATOR TAYLOR.
Senator Taylor—I think we will elect a Senator, by the withdrawal of one or more of the present candidates. I do not believe there will be a caucus in open convention. I am of the opinion that the fight will continue to the last week of the session.

SENATOR STRATTON.
Senator Stratton—if one of the candidates can gain such an ascendancy as to be very materially in the lead, the pressure will be great to end the deadlock and go to that man. If, however, the present stubborn conditions continue, the contest, in my opinion, will not be settled until there is a caucus, although that caucus will not be upon a basis of a majority vote but upon say fifty votes or some other figure which would be reasonable.

SENATOR LEAVITT.
Senator Leavitt—I believe that before the Legislature adjourns, there will be a general caucus in accordance with the time-honored customs of the Republican party and that Colonel Daniel M. Burns will be elected to the United States Senate to succeed the Hon. Stephen M. White.

ASSEMBLYMAN KNOWLAND.
Assemblyman Knowland—I think that the conflict will result in the election of Burns, Barnes or a new man. I am of the opinion that this will be brought about either by a conference of the shortenders or a general caucus. I am inclined to believe that next week will end the contest. I do not think that there are any fears of our adjournment without electing a United States Senator, and I most certainly think it is our duty to elect one before we go home.

ASSEMBLYMAN MCKEEN.
Assemblyman McKee—I believe that the contest will end in the election of Colonel D. M. Burns. My opinion is that a caucus will be held that will bring about that result. I certainly hope so. I am willing and always have been from the start to go into caucus and I am voting the sentiments of all the supporters of Colonel Burns when I say that we will stand firm until we have an opportunity to settle this deadlock in accordance with party custom and precedent.

ASSEMBLYMAN McDONALD.
Assemblyman McDonald—I do not think that we will be able to elect a Senator this session. However, I am scarcely in a position to talk on the subject, for I have been in bed for the past three days and have had to rely on the newspapers for my information as to what is going on. Judging by the reaction adapted by the Burns men, though, I don't see how this matter can be settled. The Burns people will continue voting for the caucus, and will listen to no other proposition unless they can have a caucus on the other hand, the anti-Burns people say that a caucus will bring us into caucus. If both sides are in earnest, tell me, how is it possible to ever secure an election?

ASSEMBLYMAN WRIGHT.
Assemblyman Wright—I believe that we will elect a United States Senator before we adjourn, and I am of opinion that the election will be accomplished by means of a caucus. I affirm my allegiance to the caucus principle, because I believe this is a government by the majority. I do not wish to see the candidates who are opposed to Mr. Burns withdraw, but would rather see them submit to a caucus where all can meet on a common plane. Then let the man who is selected by a majority of that caucus be declared the party choice for United States Senator.

ASSEMBLYMAN KELLEY.
Assemblyman Kelley—in my opinion a United States Senator will be chosen before adjournment comes. The firm stand taken by the adherents of Colonel Burns is entirely contrary to the wishes of the members of the Legislature that they will listen to no other proposition but that of a regular party caucus, and as they are only asking for what by party tradition has always been accorded to them, I am satisfied that the caucus will be brought about before we adjourn.

ASSEMBLYMAN BLISS.
Assemblyman Bliss had gone to Oakland and hence could not be interviewed. He, however, expressed himself on the subject to your correspondent a couple of days ago, saying that in his belief a Senator would be chosen this session, and that the man would be either Burns or Grant. Mr. Bliss is opposed to the consideration of any new candidates, and is understood to be of the opinion that a caucus is the best way to settle the whole trouble.

SPAIN HAS A NEW CABINET.

The Ministry Takes the Oath of Office.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

MADRID, Mar. 4.—The new Cabinet took the oath of office today. The Ministry is composed as follows:

Senor Silveira, Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Senor Vato, Minister of the Interior.

Marquis Villaverde, Minister of Finance.

Senor Duran, Minister of Justice.

General Polveja, Minister of War.

Marquis Pidal, Minister of Public Affairs and of the Colonies.

Admiral Camara, Minister of Marine.

It is expected that General Martinez de Campos will be President of the Senate.

The brother of Marquis Pidal, it is thought, will be chosen as President of the Chamber of Deputies.

SILVEIRA A STATESMAN.
MADRID, Mar. 4.—There was some excitement in the cafes last night when the formation of the Silveira Cabinet was announced. The "Marsellaiso" was sung and there were cheers for liberty.

Those immediately surrounding Senor Silveira say his sole idea is to regenerate the country. He holds that the Queen Regent can ratify the treaty of peace with the United States without a vote of the chambers, and that, therefore, their dissolution need not defer the ratification.

Colonel Montgomery, the 17-year-old boy accused of attacking Mrs. Norrie Hanflin in front of her home Saturday evening, was on trial in the Police Court this morning.

Mrs. Hanflin told how she had been attacked about 9:30 o'clock at night. She said she had been thrown to the ground and choked. She said she had a good opportunity to see her assailant and that she was positive young Montgomery was that person. During the cross-examination Mrs. Hanflin admitted that she was more than 30 years old.

Young Montgomery, who is a cripple, denied the allegation and swore that he was at home and in bed at the time the assault was made upon Mrs. Hanflin. His father and mother both swore that the boy was at home and in bed soon after 9 o'clock Saturday evening.

The testimony was conflicting, so the case was continued until Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Judgment has been suspended in the case of Charlotte Robb, the wayward girl arrested some time ago on a vagrancy charge. Home in the country has been found for her, and she will be given another chance to reform.

SYRUP OF FIGS

NEVER IMITATED QUALITY.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

REMOVAL OF THE M. J. KELLER CO.

Superb New Quarters on Washington Street.

The transfer of the headquarters and store of the M. J. Keller Company from Broadway, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, to the west side of Washington street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, has been accomplished. The firm is snugly at home in its new quarters, and the appearance which the new mart of trade presents is a revelation of what may be done by an up-to-date house in the laying out, stocking and beautifying of a place of business on the most approved modern plan.

No transfer of a mercantile and manufacturing concern in this city has attracted half so much attention as has that of the firm in question. During the progress of the alteration of the present store for its new occupants the removal of the stock from the old store on Broadway and the bringing of order out of chaos in the new one, the work engaged the attention of many people, and even now the brilliancy of the appearance presented by the new emporium.

The old building consisted of two stories and a basement. The new one has three stories and a basement. The store has a frontage of fifty feet, with a depth of seventy-five feet. The ceilings are high, the light admirable and the ventilation perfect. The main floor front presents a crystalline appearance which scintillates by day and night with French plate glass in picture windows bound in silver frames and running to the cornice.

For the display of goods in the windows the most ornate of metal fixings, elaborate in design and heavily silver-plated, have been employed. Between the posts that run near the end of the windows as well as the backing of the picture inclosure are sheathed with French plate mirrors, reflecting vividly the goods displayed in the store. Between the main floor the firm has established the hat, cap and tailoring, shirt and men's furnishing goods for the local trade. The stock in each of these departments is very complete and up-to-date. Each salesman is in constant communication with the cashier and the packing department by means of the aerial parcel carriage system which terminates in a gallery in the back of the store, where change is made and wrapping done to the most rapid and perfect manner.

Formerly the wrapping was done in the rear of the store. The present system is an improvement in every respect over the old one, and especially in the great element of saving time. On the second floor are the women's tailoring, sales and fitting rooms, as also the sewing rooms for men's tailoring.

On the third floor are the shirt factory, the steam-iron laundry and the country order department.

The basement is used for receiving freight and storing material.

The upper floors and basement may be reached from the main floor by means of a hydraulic elevator, thus making them as accessible as the main floor itself.

The arrangement of the store was made by Mr. Keller with a view to systematizing the business as a whole and of still further systematizing it in all its departments. Departments which are co-related in business are contiguous instead of as heretofore, being where the limitations of space compelled them to be so.

The building will be lighted by electricity and gas. More than 200 electric bulbs shed a brilliant radiance on the main floor at night, while between fifty and sixty more do duty in the display windows, so disposed, however, as to be effective without coming in range of the viewer's vision. A hundred others are disposed in various parts of the structure.

The change to Washington street from Broadway was made, as Mr. Keller puts it, because doubt's the number of people travel every day on the new street than do on Broadway, and because of the earlier accommodation afforded by the street car lines, transfer points on many of them being at Thirteenth and Fourteenth and Washington streets.

Another impelling motive in the change was the fact that there are better accommodations in the new building than there were in the old. By reason of these factors the public can be given greater satisfaction in a manner in keeping with the desire of the management.

The M. J. Keller Company is known all over the coast, and indeed in the East. It gives employment to 150 people, and keeps a force of salesmen all ways on the road, covering the territory between this and the Rocky Mountains and competing in all its lines, more especially in shirts, with the most noted Eastern houses. The success the firm has achieved is a source of pleasure to people who are interested in every mercantile and manufacturing enterprise which tends to employ labor, display energy and aid in the building up of the community.

Democratic Municipal Ticket.

—STANDS FOR—

"Equal Rights to All, and Special Privileges to None"

And the following platform adopted by the

DEMOCRATIC CITY CONVENTION:

PLATFORM

The Democracy of the city of Oakland announces the following principles:

First—The city taxes are too high, and we will reduce them if we have the power.

Second—We consider the public schools as the bulwark of American liberty, and we intend to support and maintain them to the fullest extent.

Third—We are in favor of all kinds of improvements, and the purchasing of a park that will meet with the approval of the people.

Fourth—We are in favor of the completion of the work on the West Oakland marshes, and the improvements of Independence Square in East Oakland.Fifth—Considering the oppressive water rates in Oakland, we are in favor of the acquisition by the city of the water supply, and to the accomplishment of this end we instruct our candidates to use every lawful means.Sixth—Until Oakland shall acquire its own water supply, we are in favor of fixing the rates justly and fairly, and at the same time are of the opinion that the present rates are too high and ought to be reduced.Seventh—We are also in favor of the acquisition by the city of its gas and electrical works.Eighth—In consequence of the city's litigation, many thousands of dollars have been spent unnecessarily for outside attorneys. We are opposed to this, and if our nominee for City Attorney is elected, we promise for him that he will properly attend to the city's litigation without additional counsel.Ninth—We are in favor of the improvement of our streets, and think they should be put and maintained in the best condition at the least expense.Tenth—We endorse the eight hour law recently passed in the House of Representatives.Eleventh—We are in favor of the most rigid economy in every department of the city's government.Whereas, The city of Oakland is now organized under a freeholders' charter which was framed at a time when its municipal affairs were subject to and controlled by general laws; andWhereas, By the amendment to the State Constitution of 1896 it is permitted to manage its municipal affairs without reference to general laws and entirely independent of them; andWhereas, By reason of the former state of the constitution, the present charter is very defective and requires to be amended in many particulars relating to municipal affairs; therefore be itResolved, That the Democratic party of the city of Oakland is in favor of securing action by the City Council, to the end that proper amendments may be prepared and submitted to the people for ratification. In order that the city of Oakland may receive the full measure of benefits derived from the said amendment to the State Constitution, and thereby repeal many general laws now applicable, which arrest the development of the city and prevent its citizens from correcting many abuses in the administration of its affairs.

COMMENDATION

SUBSCRIBERS

LYMAN J. GAGE

Secretary of Treasury of the United States.

The volumes composing THE WARNER LIBRARY form in themselves a valuable library for the home, containing as they do, the intellectual treasures of the world.

GARRET A. HOBART

Vice-President of the United States.

It is a pleasure to commend THE WORLD'S BEST LITERATURE, so admirably edited and selected as to meet all the requirements of its title. It is a most valuable addition to my library, and I prize it highly.

J. H. GALLINGER

United States Senator from New Hampshire.

A careful examination of THE WARNER LIBRARY convinces me that it is one of the most valuable literary ventures the world has ever known. The scheme of giving in such small compass a library comprising the best books in every department of literature and science is one that must commend itself to every thoughtful man. It will be invaluable to me, and I cheerfully commend it to the favorable consideration of all.

S. B. ELKINS

United States Senator from West Virginia.

My attention was called, some time ago, to THE WARNER LIBRARY by a friend for whose literary taste I have the highest regard. I subscribed for this work, and now that it is on my shelves I esteem it as one of the most valuable additions to my library, covering, as it does, the whole range of literature from the earliest to the latest time.

WM. R. COX

Secretary of the United States Senate.

I have examined with increasing pleasure THE WARNER LIBRARY. While in their prospectus the publishers promised much, they have fully redeemed their promise. Each succeeding volume sustains the interest of its predecessor. The work is invaluable alike to those having large libraries and to those having but few books. To the business man of culture it is a volume-museum, to the man of leisure and refinement a solace and delight.

A HOME LIBRARY

SYNOPSIS OF CONTENTS

Science and Philosophy The truths of science have been popularized by such men as Huxley, Tyndall, Pasteur and Agassiz. Much of their writings is as readable and interesting as romance. The portions of their works chosen by the editors and Advisory Council embrace all sciences, such as Astronomy, Geology, Geography, Navigation, Botany, and Zoology. The great thinkers and philosophers—from Socrates, Plato and Aristotle to Galileo, Spinoza and Darwin—are represented.

HISTORY The LIBRARY contains the best of historical writings that could be gathered from all nations, and periods. Great events, battles and campaigns are described by Herodotus, Julius Caesar, Macaulay, Victor Hugo, and many others. Here is the record of patriotism and of the struggles for religious and political liberty, told by writers whose literary excellence has received the seal of the world's critical approval.

POETRY All poets of original and creative power are represented, from Chaucer to Tennyson, from Homer to James Whitcomb Riley, and the selections include every theme upon which they have sung, from the loftiest religious inspirations to airy flights of fancy, from poems of sentiment and reflection, to poems of wit and humor; from familiar and dear hymns to occasional society verse, while single poems upon which the author's title to fame chiefly rests, and modern verse of value, are grouped together under an appropriate heading.

ROMANCE From the birth of romance-writing to the present days the editors have selected the best stories of all ages and countries. For instance, one will find good stories from the writers of ancient Egypt side by side with the nineteenth century productions of Paul Bourget, Ian MacLaren, Robert Louis Stevenson, H. C. Bunner, and others. This is a novel-reading age, and so the novelists occupy an important place in the LIBRARY.

ORATORY Nothing in literature is more inspiring than the words of the great orators, and the LIBRARY has done full justice to oratory, from Demosthenes and Cicero to Webster and Wendell Phillips. It is thus possible for the reader to easily make a study of the speeches that moved Athenian and Roman audiences, and have stirred the strongest emotions in modern time.

WIT AND HUMOR It seems to be generally admitted that America has produced, during the past fifty years, more genuine humor than any other country. The best of it all is found in these volumes, as well as that of France, Russia, Japan, and of ancient nations. As the reader peruses the writings of Mark Twain, Charles Lamb, Aristophanes, and a host of other authors of all countries, who have cheered and brightened life, he will be interested in comparing what has made readers of English laugh and what has amused other nationalities.

THE DRAMA As in other departments, the selections from dramatic literature represents every age and country. The Greek tragedies and comedies, the French and English dramatic writers—all are there. It is within bounds to say that an entire volume could be made up from the dramatic literature here given, making the work, in this particular, most complete and interesting.

FAMOUS LETTERS The best thoughts of brilliant men and women are often given in their letters to warm personal friends. In the LIBRARY will be found the choicest specimens of epistolary literature in every language, including letters of Alciphron of Ancient Athens, Madame de Staël, Madame de Sevigne, Lady Mary Montagu, Horace Walpole, Cowper, Pope, Benjamin Franklin, Abigail Adams; abounding in wit, humor sentiment and reflection, according to the temperament of each writer.

Oriental Literature It has been a special design of the editors to give such a general view of Oriental Literature that the student as well as casual reader may survey in these volumes the whole field of the East, and be able to compare its literature with that of the West both as to style and quality, all arranged chronologically, and thus enlarge his historic view.

Theology and Pulpit Oratory The LIBRARY begins at the very foundation of religious thought as expressed in the oldest existing manuscripts. Most of this material can be found nowhere else except in rare or expensive books. From the literature of ancient Egypt is selected the celebrated "Book of the Dead," a copy of which was buried with all mummies and which was supposed to help the spirit of the deceased to pass safely through the Egyptian Hades. Selections from the earliest existing religious writings of China, Japan, Persia, India, and many other countries, are given. The greatest theologians of the Christian era—St. Chrysostom, Luther, Erasmus, Calvin, Jonathan Edwards, John Knox, John Wesley, and many others—are represented by their loftiest and most interesting utterances, as are also the great pulpit orators, such as Fenelon, Bossuet, Chalmers, Channing, Phillips Brooks, and Beecher.

Noted Songs, Hymns and Lyrics One volume of the Library is devoted exclusively to dear and familiar hymns, national songs, and those famous single poems which stand out prominently as the finest example of poetic genius, the names of whose authors have in many cases, been lost or forgotten. In fact, this department includes nearly 1000 of the finest lyric efforts of the human race the greater part of which are not to be found in the largest private libraries.

The Biographical Dictionary of Authors A most useful volume in the Library is the Dictionary of all the authors of the world, past and present, who have achieved permanent literary reputation. It gives the proper pronunciation of each name. It records dates of birth and death, name of country, and gives such historical clues to careers as will be interesting. It classifies each author in his proper sphere of literature, whether poet, philosopher, story writer, orator, preacher or scientist, and gives the titles of the most famous work or works for which each author is famous in the world.

Synopsis of Famous Books of the World Only a few have time to read even a portion of the best books in the world, yet every intelligent person desires to know what certain books treat of that are frequently referred to in conversation, daily papers, magazines, etc. A valuable feature, therefore, of the Library, and one not to be found in any other work, is the synopses or descriptions of all such books as "Ben Hur," "Robert Elsmere," "Scarlet Letter," "Quo Vadis," etc., etc.; also dramas, poems, and abstracts of the contents of all the principal books of the world, giving the reader a general and valuable statement for the purpose of information, or of intelligent conversation on books, without having read every work of each author. Information can thus be easily and quickly gained about all important books of each well-known writer.

THE INDEX The entire contents of the LIBRARY is indexed and cross-indexed, so that the whole field of literature becomes available for quick reference. Special topics are also carefully included in the alphabetical arrangement, so that one can easily and quickly follow throughout the entire work any particular subject such as "Education," "Liberty," "Wealth," "Friendship," and glean what all the authors have written about them. The Index further contains an exhaustive list of all authors and literary subjects treated in the entire work, together with the names of the characters mentioned in any department of the LIBRARY. The names of the writers of the signed articles will also be included. This Index, taken in connection with the alphabetical arrangement of the topics in the thirty volumes, the Biographical Dictionary of Author, and Synopses of Famous Books, will afford facilities for the easiest and most extensive reference to the literature of the world that has ever been given.

WORDS OF
COMMENDATION
NOTABLE

CHARLES EMORY SMITH

Postmaster-General of the United States.

I am greatly pleased with THE WARNER LIBRARY. In comprehensive range, in judicious selection, in competent and discriminating editorship, it is admirably conceived and thoroughly executed. It is a rich collection of the literary gems of the ages.

FITZHUGH LEE

Ex-Consul-General to Cuba, Major-General U. S. Army, says:

Replying to your favor of recent date, I am pleased to say that THE WARNER LIBRARY is the most valuable and fascinating work that I have ever had in my library, and has afforded great pleasure both to myself and family.

C. D. SIGSBEE

Captain, United States Navy, says:

An examination of the set of THE WARNER LIBRARY recently purchased from you, leads me to express my admiration for this great work. I know of no other one set of books from which can be derived a more broad, intelligent and interesting view of the best literature of the world.

JOHN RUSSELL YOUNG

Late Librarian of Congress, Washington, D. C., says:

I have carefully read THE WARNER LIBRARY as it came to us, and congratulate you, as well as your fellow laborers, upon so complete and noble a contribution to our literature.

JOHN ADDISON PORTER

Private Secretary to President McKinley, Washington, D. C., says:

I am more than pleased with my investment in THE WARNER LIBRARY—the finest collection of its kind which I have ever seen. Your enterprise and progressiveness in entering upon such a large undertaking have my best wishes for success.
